Measure service, sales, capacity, and cash

A small scorecard helps owners notice trends. Measures should connect to decisions and balance growth with quality and liquidity.

The deeper idea

A scorecard should change behavior. Leading measures warn while action remains possible; lagging measures confirm what already happened. Too many measures create reporting without management.

Learning objectives

- Explain leading indicator using the lesson's governing facts.
- Distinguish lagging indicator from an assumption or promotional summary.
- Show how capacity changes cost, timing, control, responsibility, or risk.
- Complete the sop template using traceable source information.

Vocabulary in action

leading indicator	Locate it in source material and state what it measures or governs.
lagging indicator	Use it to make the comparison concrete instead of relying on a label.
capacity	Name who carries responsibility, what triggers it, and which control makes it visible.

Move from information to a responsible next step.

1. Define the exact question

State the purpose, deadline, and consequence of delay. Connect the question to this lesson and its governing evidence.

2. Gather governing evidence

Collect current agreements, statements, official disclosures, operating records, or program instructions. Record the source and date.

3. Apply the vocabulary

Locate leading indicator, lagging indicator, and capacity in the real document or process. Translate each into a dollar, date, action, control, or responsibility.

4. Test a difficult case

Change one important assumption - timing, volume, cost, income, access, or support - and explain whether the plan still works.

5. Record the decision

Choose proceed, revise, compare, seek qualified review, or stop. Name the next action, its owner, and the review date.

Applied scenario

A learner must make this decision this month. The learner gathers governing records, locates leading indicator, lagging indicator, and capacity, and completes the assignment. The decision pauses if the difficult-case test exposes an obligation or operating risk that cannot be managed.

SOP template

Select one leading and one lagging measure for each operational area.

Purpose: What exact decision does this lesson support?

Evidence: Which source documents prove the facts? Include dates.

Terms: Where do leading indicator, lagging indicator, and capacity appear, and what does each change?

Stress-test and decision record

Stress test: Which assumption is most fragile, and what happens if it fails?

Decision record: What is the next action, who owns it, and when will it be reviewed?

My recorded status
☐ Proceed ☐ Revise ☐ Compare ☐ Seek qualified review ☐ Stop

KNOWLEDGE CHECK

Confirm your understanding.

1. State the central teaching in your own words.

2. How do leading indicator and lagging indicator work together?

3. What evidence is strong enough to use?

4. What would make the plan pause?

5. What belongs in the finished assignment?

Compare reasoning, not just wording.

1. State the central teaching in your own words.

A scorecard should change behavior. Leading measures warn while action remains possible; lagging measures confirm what already happened. Too many measures create reporting without management.

2. How do leading indicator and lagging indicator work together?

Define each, locate both in source material, and explain their combined effect on the decision.

3. What evidence is strong enough to use?

Current, relevant, traceable information from an agreement, statement, official source, operating record, or qualified professional.

4. What would make the plan pause?

A missing governing fact, unsupported claim, unmanageable stress case, or inability to explain the responsibility attached to capacity.

5. What belongs in the finished assignment?

Purpose, sources, term definitions, comparison or calculation, difficult-case result, unanswered questions, responsible owner, and review date.
